

Concept 2 YF-202 "Strike Sparrow"

Greatly increased drop-tank capacity doubles range compared to F/A-18E/F

Canards enable more options for control in aerobatics and allow a further back-shifted main wing, paying for themselves in terms of weight and production costs

Back-shifted wings allow for close wing-engine structural coupling, saving weight and decreasing complexity

